CONGRATULATIONS

To our children who made their First Holy Communion last Sunday. About 450 people packed the Minster for a prayerful Mass. It was edifying to see the devotion of the children as they received Our Lord for the first time. Many thanks to the catechists who prepared the children and to the Knights of St. Columba for stewarding the occasion. We are also very grateful to Canon Mark Dimond for allowing us to use the Minster and for his assistance on the day. The children return to Holy Family Church this afternoon (Sunday) to give thanks and to receive their certificates after Benediction. All parishioners are welcome to join the children for Benediction at 3pm.

PRIESTS TRAINING FUND

There is a second collection today towards the cost of educating our students for the priesthood. Our diocese is blessed with four seminarians at the moment with another three due to begin training in the autumn. Deacon Anthony Asomugha, who spent some time in our parish, will be ordained priest next month. Please keep them all in your prayers.
